

JAMES HARE

SINCE 1865

Voyager

Voyager, Persia & Kashmiri

James Hare is a family firm which has progressed over generations, specialising in the manufacturer, design and distribution of the finest fabrics for the fashion and interior markets across the world. It continues to abide by its founder's principles of bringing you only the best in British design, quality and service.

This season's collections, Voyager, Persia and Kashmiri Silk are inspired by the diaries of female Victorian travellers, who criss-crossed the world in a corset. They recorded their adventures through painting, drawing and photography incorporating the colours and textures of plants, patterns and vistas from destinations including Siam, Ceylon and Java. At the same time in England, in 1865, James Hare was founding his textile company.

The collections are ideal for curtains, upholstery, blinds, lampshades, cushions and other decorative detailing. Virtually all of the fabrics can be paper backed for wallcoverings creating dramatic walls with natural texture and an intense depth of colour.
